Dr. Kimball thinks it was in diluted form, and that this was the reason its action was so slow. Had the strength of the poison been used it would have been instant in its action. The poison was purchased at a local drug store by the prison clerk, who was told by Latimer that he wanted to develop some photographic plates.

LOUISVILLE BANKS VICTIMIZED.

Whisky Warehouse Receipts Forged to the Extent of Probably $200,000.

Louisville, March 28 .- A forgery in whisky warehouse receipts has been unearthed in this city, and A. R. Sutton, who docs business as A. R. Sutton & Co., wholesale whisky dealer and exporter, at No-105 West Main street, is at the bottom of it. The banks of this city have made the discovery that they have been victimized to the extent of $100,000. The banks caught are the Louisville Banking Company, Farmers' and Drovers' Bank, Western Bank, German National Bank, German Security Bank and the Fourth National Bank. The banks of the city lend hundreds of thousands of dollars on warehouse receipts, the whisky being in bond, and a certificate that the whisky is under government control is as good collateral as any bank officer wants. Sutton evidently had a plate made and struck off the bogus receipts, which were forged on the following distillers: Joseph R. Walker, J. S. Searcy, S. O. Hackley, and Ed Murphy & Co., of Lawrenceburg, and J. G. Mattingly & Co., of this city. It is understood that private persons and banks outside of the city have been caught for an additional $100,000. Sutton claims that he bought the receipts from a man named Cohn, of New Orleans, in good faith. A telegram has been sent to New Orleans, but a reply has not yet been received.

EVIDENCE CONFIRMATORY.

Witnesses Now Being Examined to Strengthen the State's Case Against Murphy. Special to the Jadianapolis Journal LAFAYETTE, Ind., March 28.-Father E. P. Walters, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church, was a witness this afternoon in the Murphy trial. He did not get to testify to any material point. The jury was sent out while the lawyers discussed the question of whether the witness could answer the question whether Peter Clark, a man not now on trial, was a member of the Catholic Church. The court ruled it out. The State asked the witness if he had been consulted prior to the riot by any member of his congregation with reference to taking steps to prevent Rudolph speaking here, but the defense objected and the court ruled out the question. Father Walters was excused for the present and the point will be argued later. It is believed the State will get through by Wednesday night. Witnesses were put through at a lively rate this morning, but they did not seem to throw much new light on the question of the guilt or innocence of the defendant. Murphy. Graves testified that Murphy and two companions went up into the gallery. One of the men with the defendant was drunk, and the opera house policeman asked Graves to go up stairs and get the drunken man out. Graves found the men in an aisle and told them to sit down or go down. Murphy, the defendant, turned to his companions and said, "Come along, boys, there is no chance for us up here." The defense sought to secure an ad-

up in the gallery. Jethro Neville, another witness, testified that Murphy was standing within four or five feet of him, and somewhat in front. He did not see Murphy shoot, nor did he see him have a revolver. He did not think Murphy could have shot without him seeing. This witness testified to a belief that the report of the pistol came from a point further back in the room. Frank Crapp, president of the local lodge of the A. P. A., was a witness this morning. He was on the stage, and drew his own revolver before Rudolph had drawn, but he did not shoot. Dr. Ackerman testified to seeing Murphy in the position in the house where the State has repeatedly placed him. He heard the shot and saw the flash, but did not know who fired it. George Kechele testined to being within a few feet of Murphy at the opera house. He saw him standing up and heard him ask Jamison to move along in the row of seats so be [Murphy] sat almost in front of Murphy, and saw him get up, load his revolver and shoot, his weapon being pointed toward Rudolph, who was on the stage. The defense tried to find out from Kechele whom he told first about seeing the shooting and to whom he had told the name of the shooter. He replied he had told members of his family and two women employed at the place where he works. Robert J. Hudlow, better known as "Jack" Hudlow, a railrad engineer, was examined at length in regard to what he saw at the opera house on the night of the riot. His description of the scenes that followed the shooting was highly graphic. He said he saw men and women on the floor, behind the seats, crawling and dodging in every manner, endeavoring to keep the man that came in contact with Peter J. Clark, present street commissioner of this city, and knocked Clark down. He did this with a seat that he tore loose from the opera house floor. He had hardly downed Clark, he said, and was in the act of giving him another blow, when some one smashed him and he fell across the prostrate body of Clark. Hudlow's testimony was the most interesting description

Dr. Coulter's resignation stated that he had been offered a position where the salary was $3,000 more than he was receiving, and that, in justice to himself and family, he felt under obligations to accept the position. He then refers to the probable action of the board in offering an increase of salary here. and thinks that this would not be wise as the same favor could not be shown other deserving members of the faculty, which would work an injustice, and perhaps lead to ill feeling. Dr. Coulter appeared before the board, and made a verbal statement of his case, and, on the request of the board, named several persons who might be considered for the presidency.

After a thorough discussion of the matter, the result of this morning's session was that a committee headed by Colonel Robertson was instructed to call on Dr. Coulter at the college, which they did. The president was given to understand that the board was very anxious for him to remain and that as an inducement they proposed making the consideration something in keeping with the other propositions before him. In reply Dr. Coulter stated that the matter had gone too far as he had virtually accepted the presidency at Lake Forest; therefore, while he was grateful for the offer, he could not withdraw his resignation and he could not now ask to be released from the other position. The board took this as final and the question now is who will they select for the vacancy. It is virtually decided that no decision will be made at present, but a meeting will be called later to decide on the matter. The board will adjourn in the morning. The President of Indiana University now gets $4,000, while the Lake Forest offer, as already announced is $7,000, and in addition a beautiful home for the presi-The board finds the additional appropriation of $10,000 for the general expenses is not going to go round. operators in the meantime have been dealing with organized miners. The net result is that the cost of block coal mining has been reduced to within 5 cents a ton of the price of bituminus mining instead of within 15 and 20 cents as formerly. But the block coal people have not profited acket during the strike, and when operations were resumed they were forced to cut the price to get into the market again. Although the output last year was 1,400,000 tons, the operators are not so prosperous as they expected to be. If they should join the bituminous operators the block coal miners might join the miners' union.

While being taken from the jail to the county asylum Saturday he broke away from the attendants, and has not since been heard of. His mind is unbalanced. He has an inordinate desire for destroying property. Last September he burned five large barns filled with grain, among them being those of County Clerk V. D. Ellis and Colonel Hadley. The same week he wrecked an L., E. & W. freight special, a mile north of this city. by chaining a tie on the track. He intended to catch the midnight passenger, and the special was all that saved a terrible calamity. Though weak-minded, in this business he displayed the most remarkable cunning and ingenuity. He had been committing acts of vandalism for years, and evaded detection until caught by a mere accident. He was tried for the acts, which he confessed without hesitancy, but was held not responsi-ble and ordered sent to the insane asylum. The officials of that institution, however, would not receive him, contending that he an idiot, and that he could be cared for in the asylum. For want of a better place, young Morgan has been confined in the county jail for seven months. BISMARCK'S HEALTH BAD

The Ex-Chancellor a Severe Sufferer from Insomnia and Neuralgia.

His Condition Reported to Have Grown Alarming in the Last Few Days-German Correspondent's Family Mobbed at Paris.

NEW YORK, March 28 .- A morning paper says that Dr. Emil Dorn, who resides at No. 127 East Tenth street, this city, has received alarming news in regard to Prince Bismarck's health. The paper says that Dr. Dorn was for many years an aid-decamp on Count Von Moltke sisif and since the Franco-Prussian war was stationed in London, as an attache of the German legation. He has for two years been in New York as the American correspondent of the Hamburger Nachrichten and other leading German journals. A cablegram was received by Dr. Dorn yesterday morning. It was partly in cipher and was translated by the recipient, and reads as follows:

BERLIN, March 28.—Prince Bismarck is in a critical condition. He has been suffering for several weeks with neuralgia and insomnia, and his eral weeks with neuralgia and insomnia, and his doctors have not been able this time to conquer the two old enemies which attack him every winter. His strength and vigor are giving way very rapidly, his pulse is very weak, and his appetite exceedingly bad. In spite of all this, it is very difficult to keep the patient in bed and tranquil. As soon as he awakes he wants to get up, and he will not give rest until the Princess Bismarck, who who is herself sick, comes to his bedside to read to him his correspondence and newspapers from to him his correspondence and newspapers from Berlin and Hamburg. This morning he had a fit, and his two sons, in Flume and Hamburg, have been wired for. His doctors wanted to remove him to a better climate, but he will not listen to them, and insists on receiving his friends on the 1st of April, his birthday. German Family Mobbed at Paris.

Paris, March 28.-Otto Brandes, Paris correspondent of the Berliner Tageblatt. who was ordered from the country on suspicion of having been the author of an article charging Ernest Carnot with receiving Panama money, went to the police bureau this morning and gave notice that he would start for Germany at once. His house in Asnieres, a suburb of Paris, had already been covered with insulting pla-cards, and when he left it with Mrs. Brandes a crowd of men and boys began hooting and groaning at him. The crowd followed Mr. and Mrs. Brandes to their train, without an effort from the police to drive them back. Shortly afterwards Mr. Brandes's daughters left the house to meet their parents in the city. The young women were surrounded by forty men and boys, were hustled about, and before they could get to the train were struck repeatedly with sticks and lumps of dirt. One of the daughters received a severe out on the head and required the services of a physician before she could leave the city. The government made no effort to protect the Brandes family from such abuse, but even allowed them to travel without the usual escort of gendarmes. Leo Will Continue His American Policy.

ROME, March 28. - Pope Leo to-day gave an audience to Mgr. Chapelle, coadjutor bishop of Santa Fe, N. Pope Leo emphasized the importance of the University of Washington, and expressed the hope that all bishops would contribute harmoniously to assure its success. The Pope said he wished the university to remain under the direction of the episcopate. His Holiness added that he would constantly support his protege and pupit, Mgr. VALPARAISO, March 28.-A correspondent in Rivera says that a force of 1,200 troops, sent down by the general government from Rio de Janeiro, reached there to-day. These troops raised the number of soldier of the national army now in Rio Grand do Sul to more than five thousand. They are well armed and equipped, and it s not possible for the revolutionists to hold out against them very long. This was shown only a week ago when the troops whom Tavarez left near Santa Anna fled at the approach of eight hundred soldiers of the national army, and the defeat of Saraiva, with a loss of three thousand men at Alegrete. In each instance the federals displayed their inability to fight the national army. With five thonsand men to face them they will not be able to prolong the war.

That Mysterious "X."

Paris, March 28 .- M. Andrieux, ex-prefect of police, was to-day before the parliamentary commission of inquiry in the Panama case to testify concerning the mysterious "X" who received 500,000 france from the Panama corruption fund. He repeated his statement that "X" was neither a conspicuous diplomate nor a member of the Carnot family. He had been driven by force of circumstances to reveal "X's" correct name to M. Clemenceau. Cornelius Herz, who first knew "X's" correct name, had authorized him to make it public Motives of honor, however, prevented his doing this at present. M. Andrieux added that if the government would place at his disposal a special official, with a warrant, he would agree to arrest M. Arton. the fugitive Panama lobbyist, within a Gladstone's Latest Victory.

LONDON, March 28 .- Mr. Gladstone's unrivaled mastery of parliamentary tactics has again had a remarkable display. Against the advice of his leading colleagues. he insisted on an immediate discussion of the vote of censure yesterday instead of postponing it until after Easter and as result he has obtained a splendid vote of confidence in his Irish policy, which will inspire the speeches of the recess with a tone of courage and reliance. Mr. Balfour's indictment had the weakness of an empty cause, but for Mr. Gladstone's speech, which Churchill described as entrancing. the debate was the veriest threshing of chaft. Even the Unionist Daily Telegraph says that a censure vote never before feil

Tried to Burn an Old Woman. NEW YORK, March 28.-A Berlin cable to the Post says: "The Frankfurter Zeitung publishes a horrible tale of superstition from the village of Pontezma, near Florence. A peasant's daughter suffered from partment to which the burglars could not | hysteries and the priest declared her to be possessed of devil. The peasant consulted a reputed sorceress, on whose counsel, as the only cure, he was to seize and burn the first person knocking at his door. This happened to be a beggar woman, and he threw her into an oven. Her shrieks brought passers-by, who rescued her in a dying condition. The peasant, his daughter and the sorceress were arrested."

American consulate. Probable Attendance at the Fair. Director General Davis, in North American Review. The average daily attendance at the Centennial was 62,333; the largest attendance was 274,919; the smallest, 12,720. The daily average at Paris was 130,000; the largest single day's admission, 400,000. While the circumstances and conditions surrounding the Columbian Exposition differ materially from those of either the Centennial or Paris exhibition, the divergence is not great enough to affect a very clear conclusion from the figures given. The nnavoidable inference drawn from every international fair is this: The attendance is very largely drawn from the population within a limited radius from the site of the exposition. Thus, for instance, the statistics of the Paris exhibition show that on days when the attendance averaged 250,000, at least 190,000 came from Paris and its environs. Allowing for the difference in national habits which makes the American regard a trip from San Francisco to Chicago with greater readiness than the Frenchman does a journey to Berlin; allowing, too, for the unlimited stimulus to travel given by the excursion system planned by the railroads of this country for the coming event-taking every possible factor into account, it seems hardly possible that more than an average of two bundred thousand nonresidents will be in Chicago during the exposition. Assuming, then, that two hundred thousand will be the largest average of strangers needing food and lodging in the city, no one familiar with the situation would hesitate to declare that the ordinary rule of supply and demand will prevail throughout the six months and that the price of living will be as reasonable as could be ex-

Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cer-It must be done through the blood - and the "Discovery" is the most potent bloodcleanser, strength-restorer, and flesh-builder that's known to medical science. The scrofulous affection of the lungs that's called Consumption, and every form of Scrofula and blood-taints, all yield to it. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Bronchitis, Asthma, and all severe, lingering coughs, it's an unequaled remedy. It's the only one that's guaranteed. If it doesn't benefit or cure, in every case, you have your money back.
